

April 30, 2025

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Former Major League Umpire Teams Up with Christian College

TUCSON, AZ. Genesis College and Seminary (GC&S) is excited to announce that retired Major League Umpire, Ted Barrett, has joined its Advisory Board. Barrett, who currently serves as a Rules Analyst for the MLB Network, also holds a Master's Degree in Biblical Studies and a Doctorate in Theology, both earned from Trinity College and Seminary. "Ted is a huge addition to our leadership team," said Dave Johnson, Board Chairman of GC&S. "He ministers to professional athletes all across the world, and he has recently begun ministering in the prison system. He has a heart to see men and women transformed by the power of the gospel, and we are honored to have him advise and counsel our team."

Barrett joined the American League's staff in 1994 and worked throughout both Major Leagues from 2000 until his retirement in 2022. Promoted to Crew Chief in 2013, he worked in 33 play-off series (tied for most all-time), including five World Series. He retired following the 2022 season.

Genesis College and Seminary is a 501(c)3 organization formed in 2018 by an interdenominational team of pastors, teachers, professors, administrators, and inmates. The school reaches thousands of inmates across the nation through its prison ministry, Genesis Bible Institute. Barrett joins the GC&S oversight team consisting of talented leaders, including Richard Luebke, Board Chairman for Pima Medical Institute, Dr. John DelHousaye, Professor of Biblical Studies at Arizona Christian University, and Retired Colonel Richard Tolliver, a Tuskegee Airmen Protégé. For more information about GC&S, visit www.genesisbibleinstitute.org

###